Tonka Water, a U.S. Water Brand offers remote monitoring and access of plant controls

Tonka Water’s remote monitoring system is the perfect solution for the busy plant operator or superintendent who wants the ability to monitor and control his/her plant from various locations using a tablet or computer. This feature is great for those who operate plants in remote areas, creating the ability to view and fix plant operations and put alarms to rest with no travel needed to the plant. This feature is available in two options.

Basic Remote Access provides operators with the ability to control and monitor the plant locally through a Wi-Fi connection and a tablet.

Enhanced Remote Access provides operators with the ability to control and monitor the plant remotely from another location (operator’s home, main office, vehicle) through existing computer or tablet using an existing Internet connection (using secure VPN technologies to establish remote connection).

Tonka Water’s Remote Access

- Access to mobile service support
- Flexible access to plants from other locations
- Secure VPN and firewall protection
- Increases mobility and ease of use
- Multiple user monitoring available
